Board of Directors Appoints David Forsey as Assistant Superintendent of Schools

July 31, 2020

The Board is pleased to announce the appointment of David Forsey to the Assistant Superintendent of Schools position, effective immediately.

Board chairperson, Dr Mansfield Edwards, said, "We are pleased that David has accepted this appointment especially during a period of great uncertainty caused by Covid-19.

"David brings significant experience as a teacher and principal gained over 34 years in the United States, Kenya and here in his native Ontario. His experience will greatly contribute to the growth and development of Adventist Education and our desire to make it accessible to all our children across the province."

David has been serving as the teaching principal of Adventist Christian Elementary School in London, Ontario, since September of 2016. Previously, he served at schools in Florida, Kenya, Colorado and Georgia. He comes with over 21 years' experience as a principal.

David holds a Bachelor's degree in Elementary Education, a Master of Arts degree in Education Administration and a Master of Science in Education Technology with an emphasis in Distance Education. He holds both Administrator and Professional NAD Denominational Certification, with numerous endorsements. It is anticipated that his skills and experience will be extremely valuable especially as our schools in Ontario navigate the uncertainty concerning the delivery of instruction during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Ontario Conference serves over 800 pupils in eight elementary schools and one high school.
