STEWARDSHIP
REFLECTIONS

"You are the light of the world. A city that is set on a hill cannot be hidden. Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works and glorify your Father in heaven."

(Matthew 5:14, 16, NKJV)

Stewardship Of Integrity

In times of great financial stress, we may be more tempted to compromise. But as disciples and stewards of the Lord, it is critical that we do not allow financial fears and economic woes to discredit our witness for Jesus Christ.

By the grace of God, always act with transparency, honesty, and complete integrity. Treat others fairly, and avoid even the appearance of dishonesty. Difficult times may cause us to be plagued with worries and want to hold on tightly to material things, but remember the wisdom of God's Word: "Render therefore to all their due: taxes to whom taxes are due, customs to whom customs, fear to whom fear, honor to whom honor" (Romans 13.7 NKJV).

Remain generous to God and His Kingdom, remembering that He, as Owner of all things, is more than capable of meeting our very needs. Continue to shine our light in every circumstance by honoring the Lord in all we do, so that others will be drawn to Him. It is in these times of testing that we have the opportunity for our light to shine brightly for the glory of God.
